

Everything You Need for OSHA in One Place

Our OSHA product breaks down the regulatory language into understandable material you can use to train employees and build a culture of OSHA compliance.

OSHA Safety Manual

Contains policies & procedures that address both general safety requirements and safety topics specific to the practice of dentistry that users can attest to.

Training Presentation

Includes Powerpoint Presentations for specific safety topics pertinent to dental practices & Model Template Plans that contain instructions on how to prepare required practice-specific plans.

Template Programs

OSHA requires dental practices to provide role-specific training and to assess hazardous conditions and we offer template programs that cover training and assessment requirements.

Template Exposure Control Programs

We offer template exposure control programs that allow dental practices to minimize exposure to hazards.

Forms and Logs

Specific standards require employers to maintain forms and logs, all of which we provide. Prove that your employees are trained!

Self-Audits

By using our self-audits feature, your practice can demonstrate that it has appropriate safety measures in place, as part of a good faith effort to meet OSHA requirements.
